

Hi,

I am writing to apply for python developer advertised at linkedin.com. I have total experience of 7 years, currently working at Google, India via GlobalLogic Inc as senior software engineer.

I have a good experience programming in Python, C/C++ and Golang in Unix environment. I have also worked on front end technologies/frameworks like jQuery and AngularJS. I can learn and excel at new technologies as needed.

The opportunity presented in this listing is very interesting, and I believe that my strong technical knowledge and education will make me a very competitive candidate for this position.

Please find my resume and other profiles below for additional information on my experience.
